ACTIVITIES

A pretty, smiling, face describes Chris Grafas, Homecoming Queen of 1969.

Queen and court reign over homecoming

Future Big Reds show their spirit as Homecoming parade passes by.

Marsha Falk, an active Senior, shows her pep as Recording Secretary of Student Council.

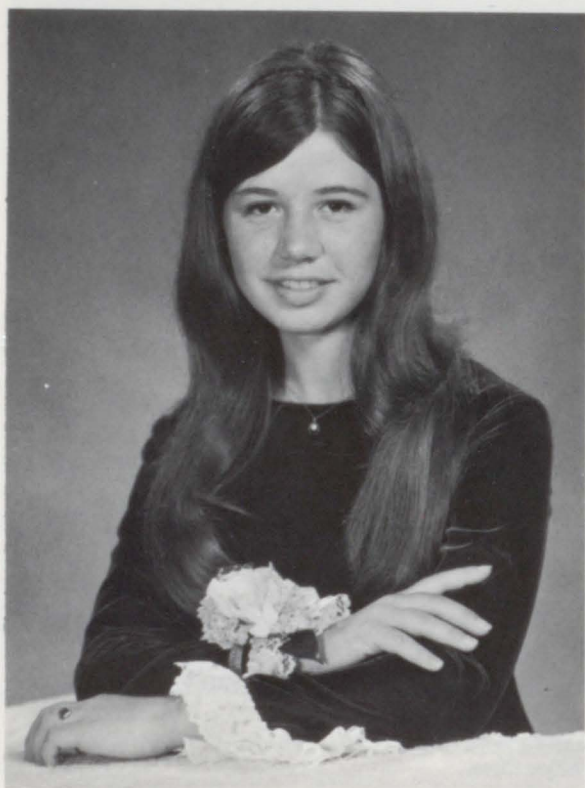

Sue Thornton keeps busy by serving as Secretary of the Senior Class.

Chris Albert shows her Junior spirit in many activities such as Varsity Cheerleading.

Debbie Dortman, a Sophomore representative of Student Council, was picked to represent her class in Homecoming.

Gail Williams has served as a former class officer and now takes part in many Junior Class activities.

A pretty enthusiastic Freshman, Becky Prevost was elected to the Homecoming Queen's Court.

Debbie Kotter was elected to the Homecoming Queen's Court in her first year at P.H.S.

Chris Grafas, 1969's Homecoming Queen.

Big Reds show

The 1969 Homecoming parade turned out many beautiful floats. Competition rose before and during the parade as each class hoped for the best. Then came the judging! The Junior class of '71 came out on top as the senior, sophomore, and freshman were 2nd, 3rd, and 4th, respectively. The 2nd place senior float (above left) entitled "The Sword in the Stone" was well constructed with beautiful flowers as decoration. The Freshmen did a fine job on the first float of their high school career (lower left). (Below) Parliamentary law club took first place in the clubs with their float "Stalked and Beaned". The Juniors took first place with their beautiful float "Pinocheo and the Giant Whale" (upper right). The sophomores came in 3rd place with "Hansel and Gretel" (lower right).

The famed director — Mr. Friley.

"Lights! Camera! Action!" were familiar words heard through the halls of P. H. H. S. as Mr. William Friley's American Literature classes made a movie written by one of their own classmates. The assignment was for each student to write a script for a movie and the best one would be chosen for the final production. Shelley Hunter's story, "Through the Purple Door" was chosen.

Peggy Scriver starred in the production as a sweet, studious, girl who turned to drugs through the influence of her boyfriend, Skip Kota. In the end she is hit by a car while under the influence of drugs and dies. (This film was rated "R". (?) )

J-Hop, 1969 a

Dancing to the mystical music provided by the "Grim Reaper", the Junior Class of Port Huron High School presented the annual J-Hop, MacArthurs Park on May 3, 1969.

Although dampened by weather outside, spirits inside zoomed, as couples danced late into the night. Backed by the view of Camelot of old, murals of psychedelic meaning, the gymnasium was transformed into a wonderland of beauty.

With all the fine decorations, and a great band — May 3, 1969 was a night to remember for all who attended.

ABOVE: This happy foursome are seen enjoying the beautiful scenery around them.

stunning story retold!

Hard work, reaps the student

Student Government has a lot to get going and little time to do it. Freshmen Orientation came and went as Student Government turned toward the task of making Homecoming 1969-70 the best ever.

Under the leadership of Ken Wakeen as President and Craig Bertrim Vice-President Student Government accomplished much as

The variety of pictures before you on these two pages represents the many ways Big Red fans show their spirit. Everyone has their own way of expressing this spirit, through the Pep Band, cheerleading, going to games, and running for office. But all of these people have one thing in common — BIG REDS.

Art's stimulating work

Chuck Lentz experiments on making a container made out of wood.

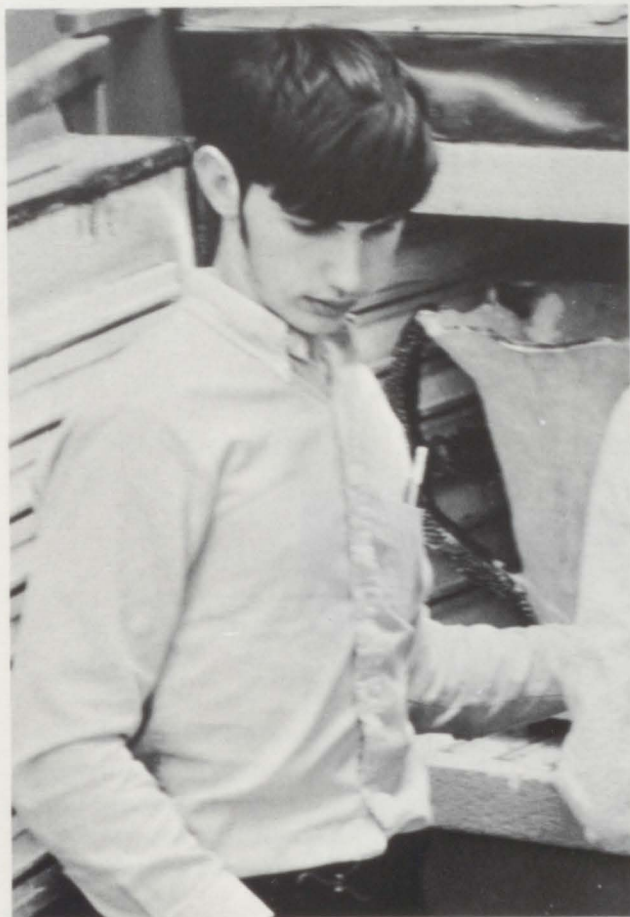

Rose Tetreault and Bill Rylander display their works of art.

1st year students display their works in pottery.

stirs the minds of members.

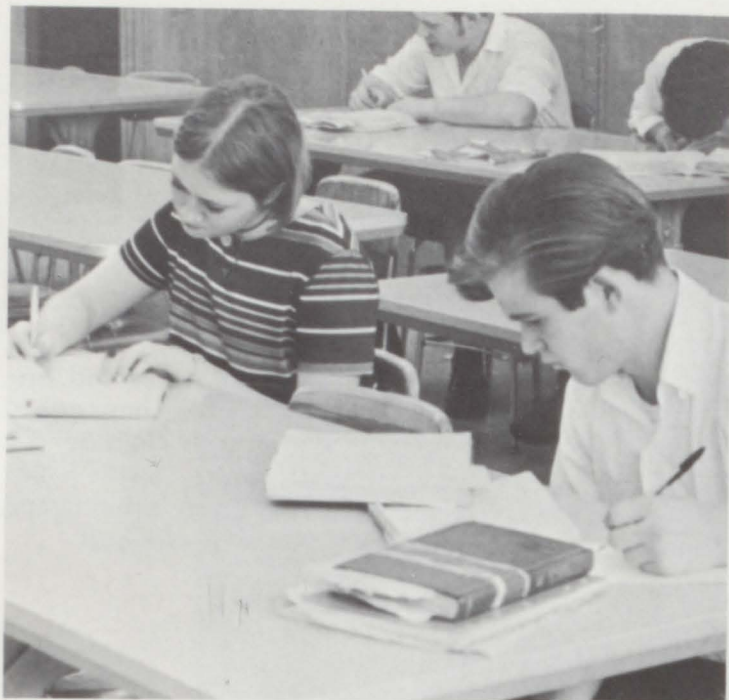

Bob McLaughlin looks down in wonder about an art project.

Art, like any language can be learned. Artists often learn ideas of far reaching effect. The students at Port Huron High School work in art with such ideas as textile painting, clay sculpture, silk screen, printing and work done in various types of charcoal.

This picture represents Albert Bankston's artistic talent.

Keeping accurate records is the goal of Claudette Nestle and Gary Land.

Business courses

Ken Shoff looks for his typing assignment before beginning typing.

offers accuracy.

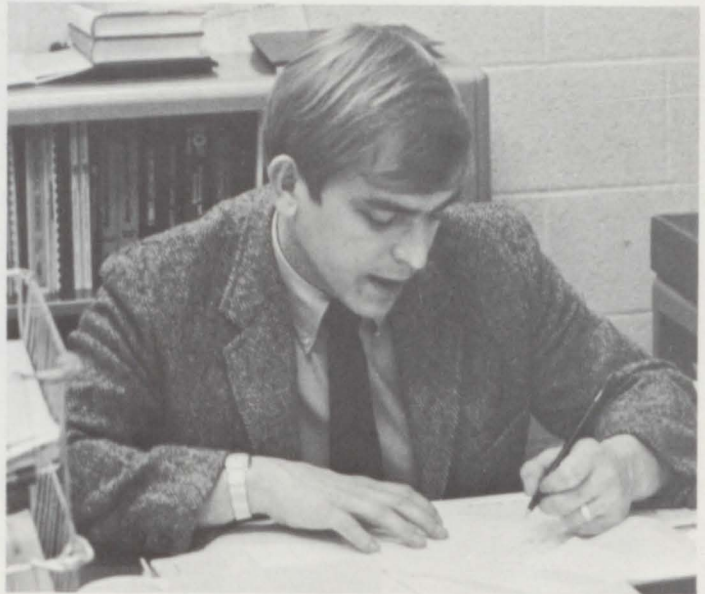

Mrs. Baker's first year typing students wait for their instructions.

"Click, click, click go the keys of the typewriters." Typing 1 students first acquire moderate speed and accuracy: later they are introduced to business letters. Their goal is to type 40 words a minute.

Sherry Brough works attentively on a typing assignment last hour.

Co-op — understanding

Mr. Goldsworthy goes over some notes for Co-op.

Co-op prepares a student to take his place in the adult-work world equipped with the necessary skills, attitudes, habits and technical knowledge. On the job, senior students are assigned simple beginning jobs in offices, stores etc. with hope that the student will be able to face the outside world.

Mr. Beedon, Mr. Clair, and Mr. Goldsworthy look at a motorcycle in the co-op window.

in business

Marsha Falk goes over attendance cards with Mrs. Emlaw.

Mr. Beedon tries to make plans for future jobs.

“English helps communication.”

English classes learn how to construct sentences.

Students in English class enjoy reading literature.

If English hadn't been taught to us since our early childhood, what would we speak or how would we write? We just couldn't do without English. Port Huron High School English classes offer Literature, Speech, and even Theatre. With well taught English courses we hope to achieve a better society.

Gym classes reach for another goal.

"En garde" says Vanessa Sassu as she demonstrates her knowledge of fencing.

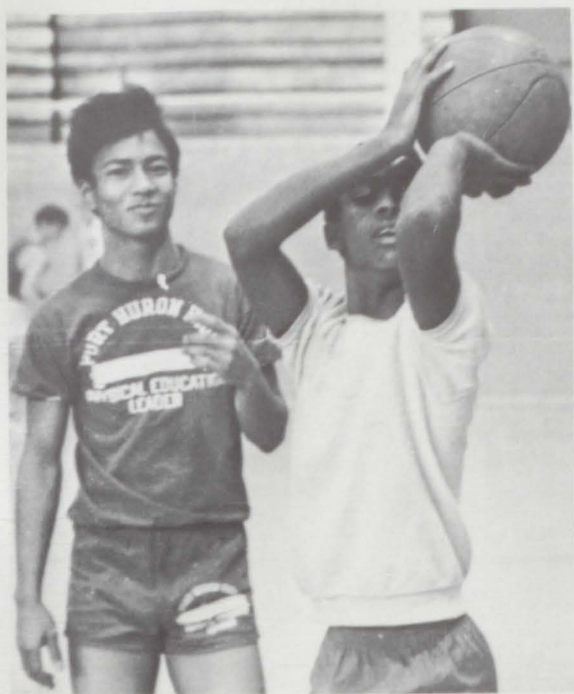

All students attending Port Huron High School have taken a course in physical education. The girls train in such games as basketball, baseball, tennis, volleyball, and archery. The boys train in such games as football, wrestling, basketball, and volleyball.

Both boys and girls have taken a course in first aid which lasted about three weeks. We hope all students have gained a better attitude toward life.

Mrs. Judy Biddle instructs her 3rd hr. gym class on the basic rules of speed ball.

Robert Hill and Fred Faulkner practice making free throws for basketball.

Fred Faulker and Dave Nichols "palm" their basketballs for practice.

The boys wait anxiously for their turn at basketball.

Home Economics — a key to modern living.

Students in homemaking classes will be our Betty Crockers of the future. In the homemaking classes at Port Huron High School, not only girls, but boys, are in these classes. During the year students learn about table etiquette, preparation and the serving of appetizing meals. Marketing and budgeting are but a few of the units of study in Home Economics.

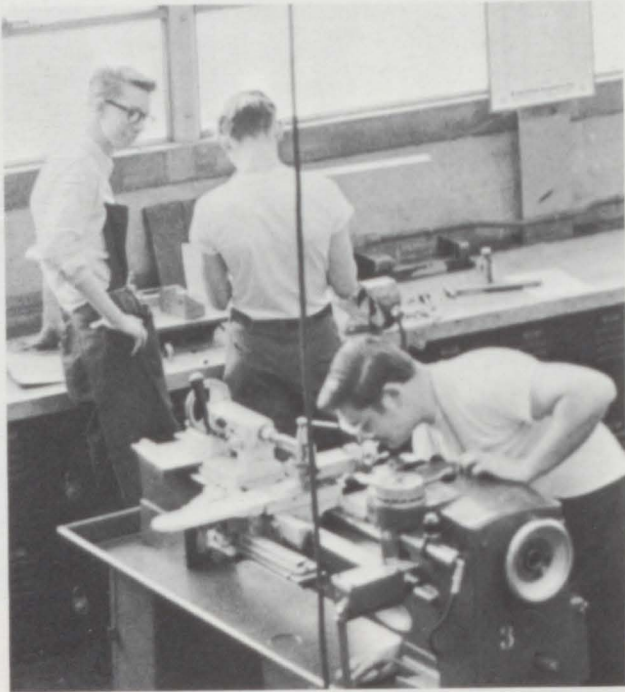

Mrs. Hardin demonstrates how to design birthday cakes.

Miss Haws second hour foods class gives a tea for the faculty.

Industrial Arts stresses exact measuring.

Hammers, saws, welding, pounding drafting. From mere pieces of wood and hardware, shop students learn to shape their ideas. Though it was long and painstaking to acquire the skills of conciseness and combine them with usefulness in design, it paid off as one felt pride when the product was admired by fellow students.

Sixth hour shop class work hard to complete their projects.

Philip Brown watches Ron Jones work on the lathe.

Driver's Education proves rewarding.

Mr. Maul explains how to merge on the expressway the safe way.

3rd hour drivers training class reviews for a test.

Drivers education courses take one semester to complete. During this time, students learn the general operation of automobiles and the rules of driving. Text books, pamphlets, and road practice help driving skill. With hope and anticipation students look forward to passing the written and road test to receive their drivers license.

Foreign Language expressing phrases

Chuck Langolf, Dave Zieg, Ann Maxwell, and Kathy Ganhs prepare a skit for German class.

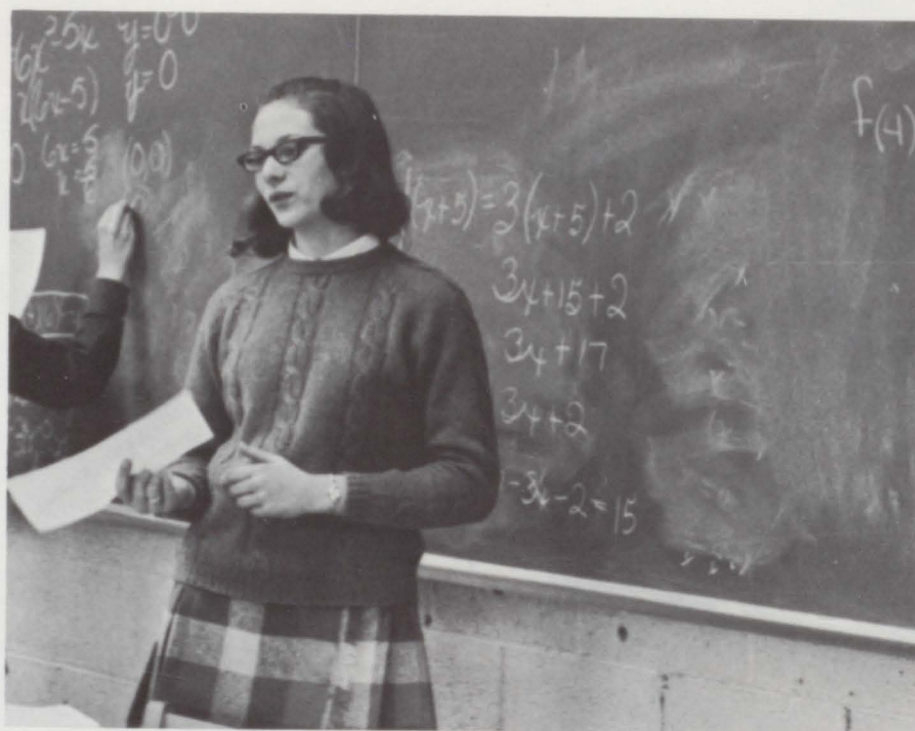

Poriria Castillo watches Miss Zuahlke explain a German problem on the board.

The Language classes of Port Huron High School consist of four different types of language; French, German, Latin, and Spanish. In these classes you experience techniques of reading from foreign newspapers, films and even working with tape recorders. There were three new teachers in the language department this year. Miss Brickey, Miss Zuahlke, and Mr. Hodge. The students have appreciated these fine teachers this year.

Math — unknown world of numbers.

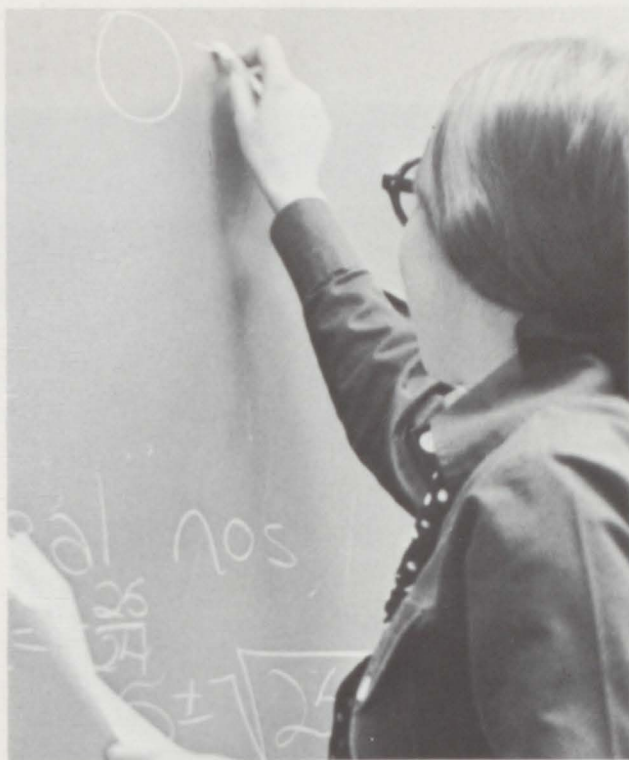

Kay Pochodylo explains a problem to her advanced math class.

Students teach each other by presenting and explaining.

Pat Teahan writes a trig problem on the board.

Mathematics, a world of numbers, proves to be most useful in life. The study helps students to develop the ability to reason and think logically. The mystery of numbers occupies hundreds of students during their study time. The courses offered at Port Huron High School are algebra, geometry, general math and the advanced class, trigonometry.

Mr. Case's third hour class learns new methods in solving math problems.

...and the beat goes on!

Mr. Moon enjoys playing the piano during the Christmas season.

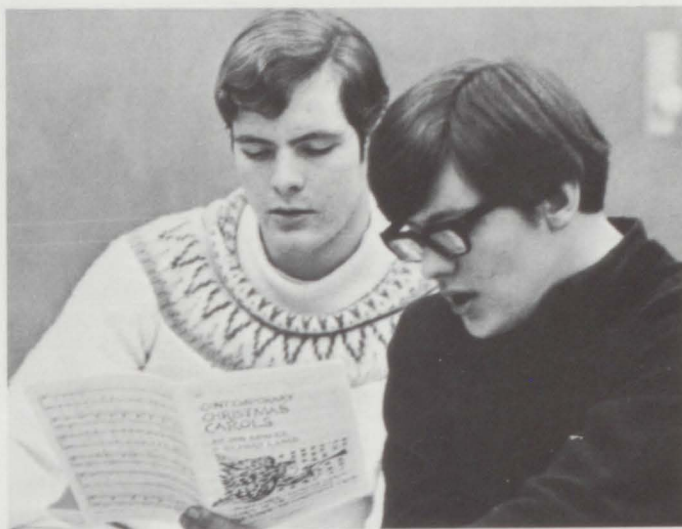

Becky Prevost and Gail Hastings enjoy singing in choir class 3rd hour.

And sweet music fills the air.

During the 1969-70 year, the a cappella choir was involved in many things. The first performance for the school was at the Christmas assembly. One of the songs that the choir sang was "It was a very good year." The choir also visited rest homes and gave some time to perform for the Kiwanis club. Mr. Moon's fine directing has made our high school choir one of the finest ever heard.

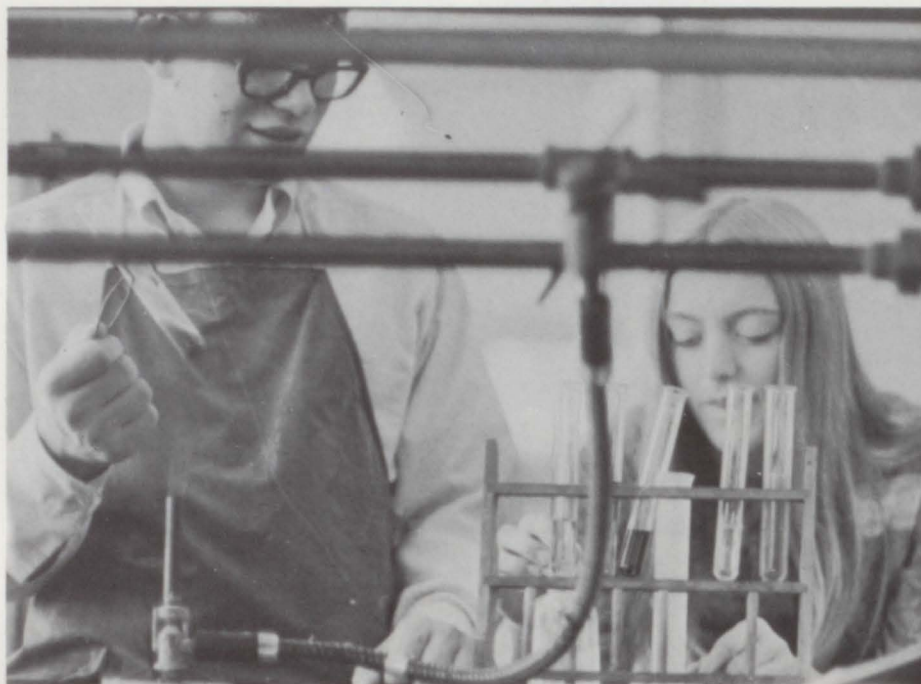

Larry Collins and Joe Prevost practice singing for the Christmas assembly.

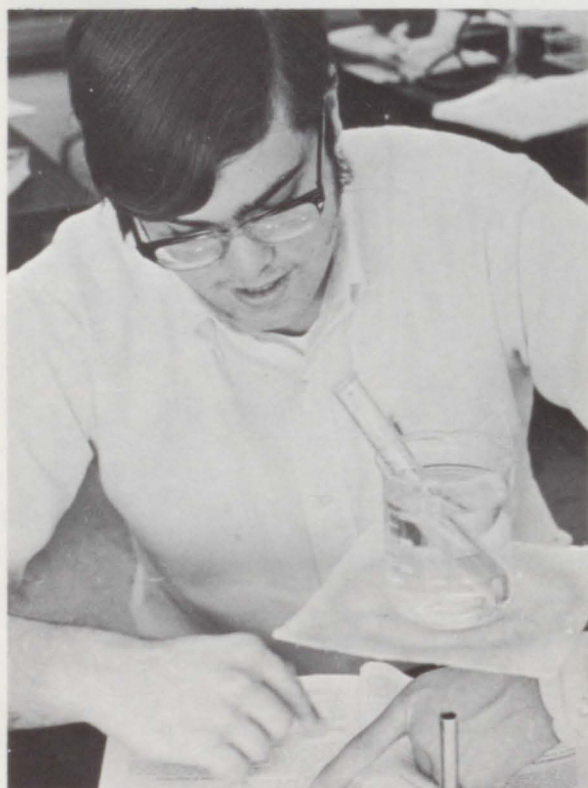

Sue Chesney and Sandy Swainson practice singing carols in choir class.

Science: keyword for the future.

John Schott and Chris Maxwell work together on an experiment in their 6th hour chemistry class.

LOWER LEFT: Mike Thomas works quietly while reading the directions of a biology experiment.

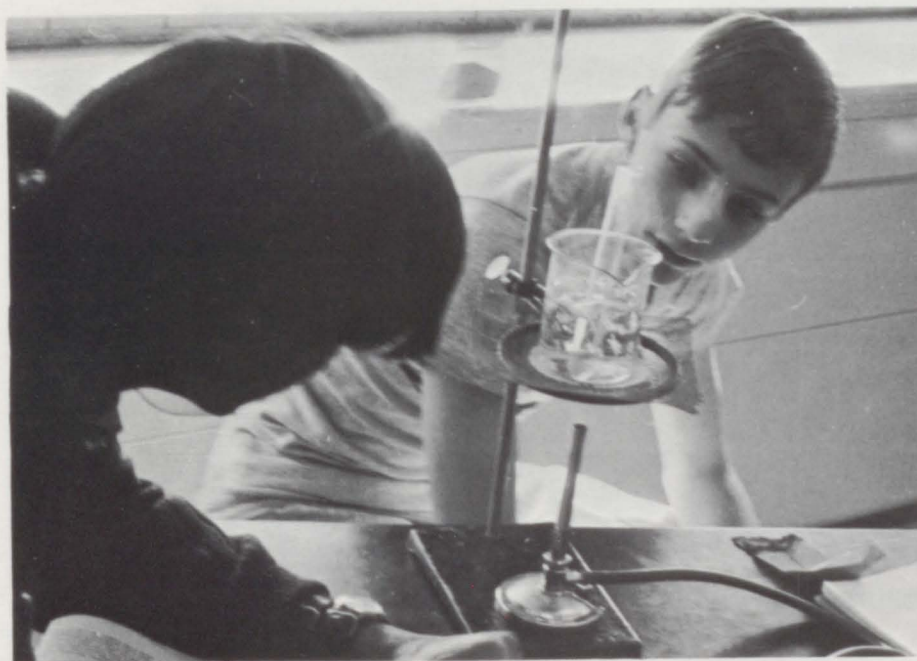

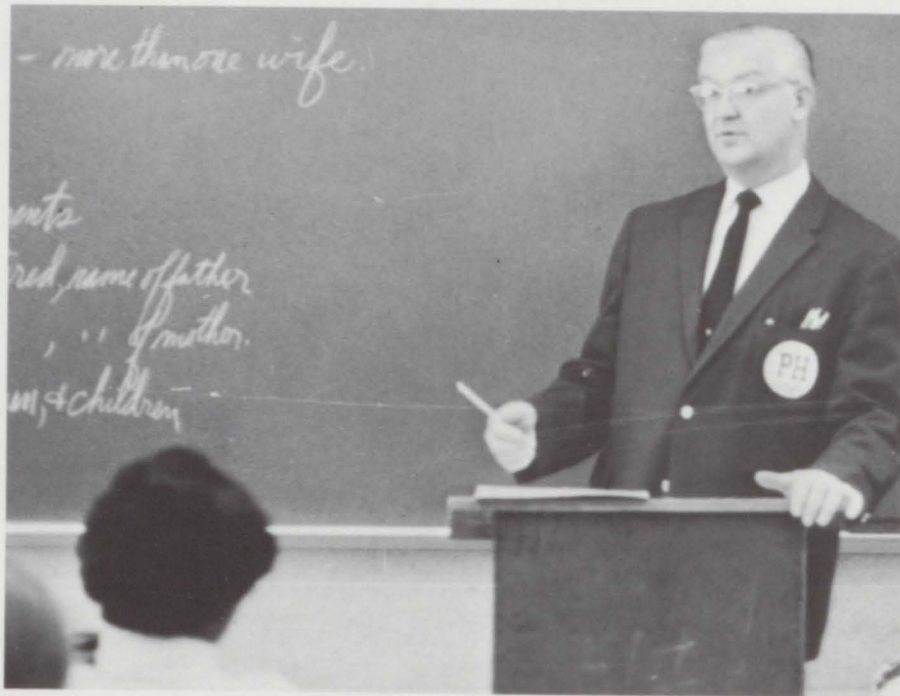

Learning, through experimenting is what science is all about. Many students find science very interesting. Such experiments were conducted with frogs, solids, liquids, gases and motion. Chemistry classes learn mostly by experimenting. Even if it doesn't work, students have learned by their mistakes. In the physical science classes students enjoy learning about electrons, molecules and atoms.

Debbie Wolff, Dave Marsh enjoy doing their biology experiments in their 6th hour biology class.

Effected courses widen social

Mr. Swegles explains P.O.D. to his 3rd hour class.

Students listen to Mr. Hamernik talk about the world problems.

studies knowledge.

Mr. Hamernik, a new teacher this year, teaching P.O.D.

While Seniors struggle with American government, juniors struggle with American history. Sophomores work in World history and last but not least freshmen learn about Civics. However, it really isn't as bad as it sounds. As your high school years come to a close we hope all students have a true picture of their heritage.

Bob Harrington listens to Mr. Vandenburg explain Geography.

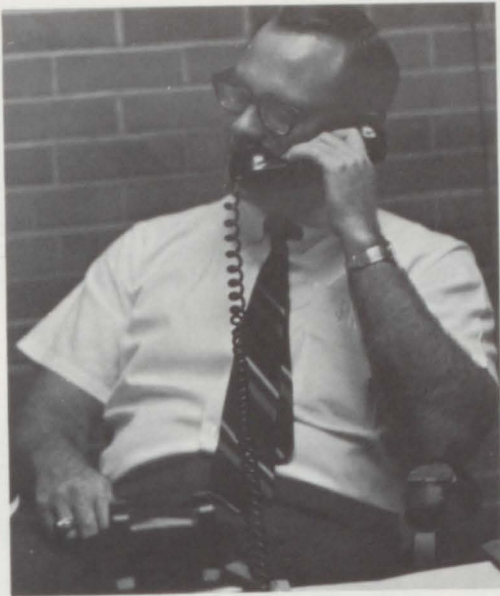

Kathy Rich, Barb Prevost, and Sandy Gilbert compare notes in their history class.

Mr. Chester Wydrynski, Principal, came to P.H.H.S. in September of '69. Realizing the needs of students, he has brought about a well balanced curriculum so that students may grow strong scholastically.

His sincere interest and understanding of students and faculty has made P.H.H.S. a more enjoyable school.

Mr. Thomas Smith, one of two new Assistant Principals, came from Detroit. Mr. Smith feels that students everywhere have similar problems, and have the same feelings and emotions. His friendly smile is commonly seen in the halls of P.H.H.S.

Mr. Wallace Nault has served in the past years as assistant principal of P.H.H.S. He is now joined by Mr. Pierce and Mr. Smith. Because of all the help he has given us with our many problems, he is deeply appreciated by all.

Mr. William Pierce came to P.H.H.S. in '69 from Port Huron Northern.

He, with the help of our two other assistant principals, has done much to improve the conditions in and around our school.

He has also brought a pleasant atmosphere to P.H.H.S.

Art Clubs interests extend beyond easel

Destination — Washington D.C. The nation's capital is the prime goal of this year's Parliamentary Law Club. Led by Mr. Fred Swegles, the 30 members have been holding bake sales, car washes, a school dance, and a Tupperware sale. The profit will go toward the end of the year trip to Washington D.C.

During February, the Club went to Lansing, Michigan and took a tour of the State Senate and House of Representatives.

Parliamentary Law Club's next project was MUNA (Model United Nation's Assembly). Different schools represented the countries in the United Nations. Port Huron High represented Saudi Arabia.

As dinnertime approaches, Debbie Miller waits to serve the patients.

This year, Future Nurses Association was sponsored by Dorothy Miller. Besides the usual candy striping in the hospital, they gave a party for the Special Education students at Theodore Eddy School, and raised money by car washes, slave days and community work. At the end of the year, a scholarship is to be given to an active club member who is going into a medical career.

GAA explodes with spirit in 69-70

This year's GAA was filled with much excitement. Such activities as Freshman Nite, Mom's Nite, Dad's Nite, Co-ed Nite, and Teachers Nite kept officers and members jumping. Their annual Christmas Party held on December 15, proved to be a great success. The wonderful turn-out sprouted the real Christmas spirit.

As a Community Service, GAA this year took part in the March of Dimes, Easter Seal Drive, Junior Red Cross Drive, and Multiple Sclerosis Campaign.

The Girls EML last year won first place in everything and they also carry the same record in this year's competition.

French and Spanish Clubs

enhance student creativity

French Club this year has been planning to go to Paris. To pay for their traveling expenses, they have had fund raising projects such as the banquet pictured here.

Spanish Club which is directed by Mr. Briones is attended by the Espanol student. This year's mascot is Harvey, the only pinata with a green navel. Among the activities which the club has partaken they have gone to the Fisher Theater to see Man of La Mancha.

Brains and brawn add to the

These clubs have been established to please the student whose interests are along this line. As the pictures depict, these students are really enjoying themselves, and this is what makes these clubs so worthwhile. Where chess club takes more thought than action, bowling club will make up for it in its many different motions. Both of these clubs welcome any newcomer to enter into the excitement.

The Junior Varsity and the Freshman Football teams had victorious and memorable seasons. The Junior Varsity ending the '69 season with a record of 3 games lost, and 6 games won. The Freshmen losing 1, and winning 5. The teams showed outstanding effort and sportsmanship both at practice as well as at every game. Self-discipline, determination, and the "Big Red" spirit all contributed greatly to the success and outcome of the Freshmens first season as the Mighty Big Reds, as well as the Junior Varsity. This year has proved that there is a new trend for the Big Red football seasons to come, a new breed of young men out for a victory at every game.

The mighty spirit which cheered our teams to victory were the energetic girls of the Varsity and Junior Varsity Cheerleading squads. They lead the student body in cheers which helped to support all the Big Reds teams.

During the 1969 summer the girls of the Varsity squad again attended a cheerleaders camp and learned many new cheers, chants, and skits. During the competition at camp the girls received a 3rd place trophy, two 1st, one 2nd, and one 3rd place ribbons.

The two Varsity Cheerleader Captains during the 1969-70 year were Miss Penny Beach for Football, and Miss Janice Stanley for Basketball.

Best Homecoming —

This year's homecoming was the last one for the Mighty Seniors.

The weather was on the dismal side, so Queen Chris Grafas was crowned in the gym at the dance. Even so, it was a memorable night.

The hard-working Seniors didn't seem to work hard enough though, because their float, "The Sword in the Stone", took second place.

Senior spotlight focuses

Tryouts began in January and progressed to the end of February, when the Senior class presented the play "Inherit the Wind."

Mr. Paul Grawemeyer, the director, withstood many long hours and hard practices, along with the cast, to make the play a success.

The cast was chosen and rehearsals began. Seniors learned that memorizing lines and making sets took much will power.

The 50 seniors that made up the play included Bill Mitchell as Matthew Harrison Brady, Cary Mrozowski as Henry Drummond, Dan McCarty as Bertrum Cates, Lori Pettengill as Rachel Brown, Joe Prevost as Reverend Brown, Larry Collins as E. K. Hornbeck, Rick Kisbany as Meeker, and many others. Also helping with the play were many Seniors that worked on make-up, props and tickets.

Even though the play was a lot of work, the Seniors will never forget their great experience.

on "Inherit the Wind"

"Rachel Brown," Lori Pettengill.

"Bertrum Cates," Dan McCarty.

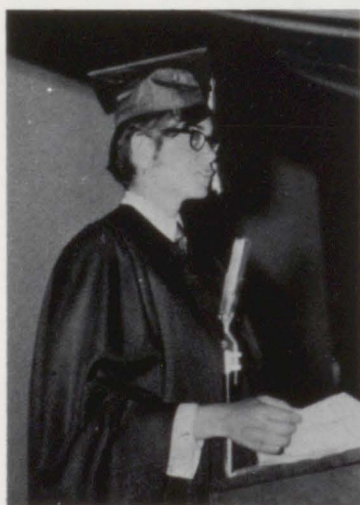

"E. K. Hornbeck," Larry Collins.

"Meeker," Rick Kisbany.

70

Dear Fellow Graduates,

It seems like only yesterday when we entered this mighty school..... and now most of the memories of the four greatest years of our lives are now in the sands of time. Our successful play, our beautiful junior prom, our fantastic floats, our endless projects, and most of all, the many good times we had together are all now gone. Even today we continue to continue to pretend that graduation day will never come. But like the seasons it must, and the troubled world will soon be ours.

In the musical "HAIR", they say that this is the "dawning of the Age of Aquarius" and that "peace will guide our planet, and love will steer the stars." Work towards harmony and understanding, pray for peace and love, and let 1970 mark the beginning of the trail to the brave, new world.

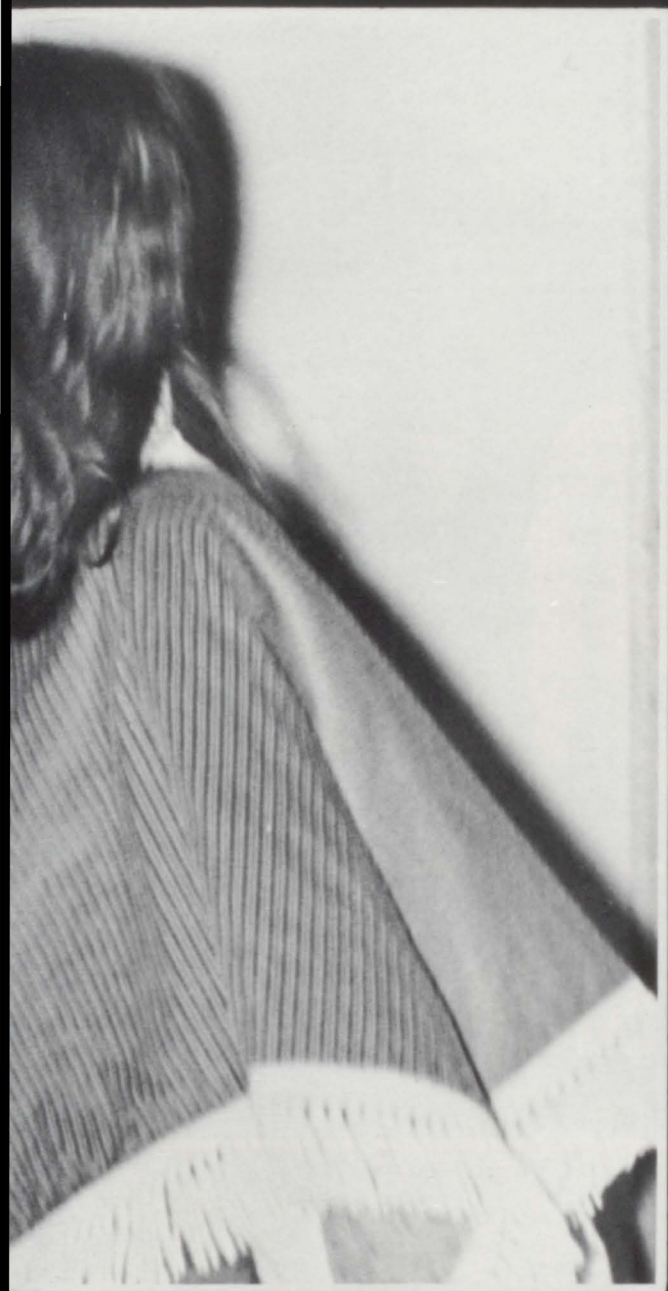

Peace,

Freshmen come on strong

The 1969-70 Freshmen year started out in full swing. First with the election assembly for class officers and then the election of the officers. President Robert Wydrzynski Vice-President Janet Horbes, Treasurer Greg Young and Secretary Kim Conroy.

Then came the many activities surrounding the Homecoming. First with the election of the girls for the Homecoming court and then the election of the Homecoming queen.

The building of the Homecoming float was also part of the many activities surrounding the Homecoming. The Freshmen worked long and hard on the "Little Jack Horner" which only made fourth place in the Homecoming parade. The Freshmen football games were also part of the fall activities surrounding this year.

Many Freshmen came out and enjoyed the dances that were held during the year. They not only enjoyed the dances but also sponsored them.

SOPHOMORES

The sophomore co-sponsors, Mrs. Courtney and Mr. Sykes, plan for coming events.

Another year of hard work and fun for the class of "72" has come to a close. The energetic Sophomores elected George Rinderspacher, Pres; Reynold Ankrapp, Vice Pres; Sharon Rosswurm, Sec; John Wakeen, Treas; as their class offices. During homecoming the class of "72" gave a gigantic try with their float, Hansel and Gretel, which took third place.

"5-4-3-2 we're the class of '72" will return next year as the victory cry of the Juniors.

Last minutes of Sophomore life

Silly sophomores prepare to take their places as jolly juniors.

JUNIORS

Junior pride

The victorious winners of the first place Homecoming float, "... and then the giant whale swallowed Pinocchio.", have shown energy, enthusiasm, spirit, and pride in their striving projects. Such pride has set a place for the Junior class in Port Huron High School. Each Junior has given their wholehearted support to all PHHS activities. To continue on with their streak of glorious victories, the J-Hop presented by the class of '71 also proved successful. The Junior class is especially proud of their Junior Class court nominees.

As the year comes to a close, the Juniors look forward with anticipation to their Senior year.
